

HOUSE ARREST

Who are these strange men who tell the world “We will get you off”? No point answering the question. They elude adjectives. They do have experience, however. Lots. Ups and Downs, and everything in between. Most work on the good side of the law, some not so much, and one who is sworn to be neutral. Together they seem to come out of a comic book- the Avengers without any special gadgets. They are bound by a love of music. They play music because they must play music. Their quest is simple-they want to lift your sentence. . . They like live shows. That is when they are good. That is when their doors are open. That is when they show up, rise up, crackle and trump. Want your sentence lifted? Hear them make their submissions. Having a party? This is where the rubber meets the road. This is House Arrest.
